Observations.. From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

This week ushers in the month of September and with it the dreaded "hurricane season"—prior to last September most of the present generation practically ignored hurricane warnings and just passed them off as "just another blow," but since then, the mere mention of the word hurricane in a weather report arouses in their hearts the most intense fear for their own safety, as well as for the protection of their personal property, and well may it be for we doubt if anyone who witnessed last year's blow will ever forget those hours which seemed like interminable years. . . . one thing Henry A. Wallace, progressive presidential candidate has found out, or his tour of the Southern states, and that is that eggs and tomatoes need not be put on the "hard to get" list. . . . latest reports from the bedside of Brother Peter are that while his condition is still considered grave, he is holding his own after four major operations. . . . the carnival now being operated on the City Hall grounds, sponsored by the American Legion, is a good thing for the enjoyment of the city's children, and would be a good thing if it could be operated successfully in this same park place the year round. . . . official results as tabulated by the State Democratic Executive Committee, this week, on the Colmer-Doggett Congressional election of last Tuesday gave Colmer 21,064 against 13,837 for Doggett. . . . the repair work on the burned-out section of the highway bridge is progressing so rapidly that one can easily see from this side just how near the finished work is approaching. . . . if you are a boat racing enthusiast, you can get your fill of thrills this Sunday when the outboard motor boat races will be held in the vicinity of the north end of the seaway. . . . a testimonial banquet will be given on next Thursday night at the Hotel Reed, by the Stanislaus Sidelines Club honoring Brother Alexis, who succeeds Brother Peter, as president of Saint Stanislaus. . . . very soon now bids will be asked for the building of a new movie theatre for Bay St. Louis, and this is not hearsay, it's facts. . . . Monday is Labor Day and means another long holiday period, during which the highways will be crowded with pleasure-seekers, so if you must drive, remember to keep your speed down and your head up with your eyes on the road for your own safety as well as that of other drivers. . . . Mississippi tax revenue continues to increase from month to month, with total receipts from January 1st through August of this year amounting to $35,778,141.00 an increase of $5,000,000 over the same period of last year. . . . after Tuesday's senatorial election in Louisiana, when Russell Long was elected over Judge Kennon it appears that Louisiana will be "Long on Longs" for a long time to come. . . . like the old hound dog we've been snooping around here and there and this is what we hear. . . . that we would not be at all surprised to see light traffic, again moving over the highway bridge even before the September 26th deadline for completion of the repair work.

—Mrs. Ellen Favre has returned from a visit to her aunt Mrs. C. R. Penton at Flat Top. . . . —Mrs. Hugh Ryland and her daughter Nancy had as their guests this week their cousin Mrs. John P. Persons and twin daughters Nancy and Dottie. . . . —Orlan and Don Lockhart of New Orleans are visiting Joe Kern for a few days. . . . —Mrs. Gladys Dutreil left for home in New Orleans on Thursday after a visit here of a week at the guest of Mrs. Joseph Kern. . . . —Richard Gleim (Sunshine) has been visiting relatives and friends in the East, and will be home this week in time to operate his ice cream truck over the holidays. . . . —Mrs. Claude Broach and three children left Tuesday night for their home in Charlotte, North Carolina, after spending three months here with her parents Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Sellers. . . . —Miss Florence Dixon has returned from Yarmouth, Maine, where she spent the summer visiting at the home of Dr. May Allen, formerly of Newcomb College faculty. She is again at her home on Sycamore Street. . . . —Sgt. and Mrs. Robert R. Sternecker and young son Richard arrived here Thursday for a visit of several weeks with Mrs. Sternecker's parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Heftmann and family. This is their first visit home in two years, during which time they have resided in Anchorage, Alaska, where Sgt. Sternecker has been stationed. SEZ THE CRAB

You know, the other day my family and I were on a little outing in front of Father Costello's little church and we noticed some delectable morsels in the sand, and being on the lookout for fresh meat as usual, due to the high prices and everything, we all went in for a free feed. Well, I nibbled once or twice and it tasted mighty good but I didn't like the looks of the things around the meat as I had heard my old grampaw talk many times of the snares people used to catch us innocent residents of the sea. Well, first thing you know Aunt Mary Crab was missing from our group and soon several of my family of uncles and aunts decided to go elsewhere (or so I thought) and finally after about twenty of my relatives seemed to have left me all alone I decided to take another try and the delicious red meat was tempting so I cautiously wended my way into the framework and first thing I knew I was hauled rudely up, wrenched from my mid-day meal and placed in a canvas sack and LO . . . and BEHOLD . . . there were all my missing relatives, all hissing and fussing because they had been snatched from the nice, salty water and were in this dry, old sack and going no one knew where. Well, pretty soon we felt ourselves moving and we were on our way, but where we were going was a complete mystery. After what seemed a very long time some monstrous looking individual began taking my relatives one by one out of the canvas bag and didn't put them back and finally I was the last one to be taken up in the tongs. I saw a pretty little brown eyed girl look in and heard her say, "OH, Mother, don't put it in the pot, it is so little." Then I heard the lady say, "Well, I told you when you caught it, it was too little to take, so now what shall we do with it?" The little girl said, "Let's take it back to the lake and maybe it will grow up and have a lot of little crabs and we can come back and catch them when they are grown and ready to eat." The mother seemed to hesitate and still held me in the tongs and as I looked into the pot I saw my grandma and gee, someone must have said something to embarrass her because "was her face red." . . . And my aunts and uncles and cousins were all mortified to death . . . I wonder why they didn't let me in on the joke?

Well, to make a long story short the nice little girl and her kind mother took me back to the lake, gently placed me in the water, and I gaily swan away in search of the rest of my family. So folks, if you haven't any faith in human kindness just remember this . . . that if there are people in the world who can have compassion for a lowly crab, there are certainly some who value and consider the feelings of their fellow-man. The reason I got so smart since I came back into the water is because I ran into a school of fish and I listened in on their lessons and learned a few things. Greed and selfishness throughout the world is the cause of all the unrest today and if each fellow would pay a little attention to the plight of his unfortunate brother and lend a helping hand, how much better off all mankind would be. I'm going to be real careful now and keep my nose out of other people's business (and nets) and as I go along my merry way I'm going to see if each day I can do just one act of kindness to repay that little girl and her kind mother for not placing me in the embarrassing position with my Grandmaw and the rest of my relatives who were in the soup that day. Why don't you try it too brother, and in about a year come out on the seawall and let me know how you feel. Bye now, I'm off to attend a deep sea banquet.

CRUSTY THE CRAB.

Pearl River Junior College Sessions Began Wednesday September 1st

321 Students With The Majority From Pearl River, Marion, Hancock, Jefferson Davis and Lamar Counties, The Area That Supports The Institution Have Registered, With Others to Register

Poplarville, Miss., Sept. 2.—With what is expected to be a record enrollment when a complete tabulation is made, Pearl River Junior College swung open the doors on the 1948-49 session Wednesday, September 1.

According to A. B. Nicholson, dean and registrar, 321 students had signed up for high school and junior college work at the close of the formal registration period on Tuesday afternoon. "Late registrations, the rest of the week and early next week will increase this figure," Nicholson said.

This current figure includes boarding students, local and transported students. The majority come from Pearl River, Marion, Hancock, Jefferson Davis and Lamar counties, the area that supports the institution. Students from as far north as New York state and south to Central America are listed in the current session matriculation cards.

Virgil McLendon, Dean of Men, and Lena Campbell, girls, hostess report that dormitory facilities are taxed to capacity with approximately 215 boarding students on the campus. This figure does not include 24 veterans who are living in the Veterans' Apartments on the campus with their families.

Pearl River College through president R. D. McLendon, welcomed most of the students Monday and Tuesday as registration progressed. The school is one of the pioneers of secondary education in the state of Mississippi, opening in 1912 as an agricultural high school, and reorganized as a junior college and high school in 1926.

BAY HIGH TIGERS HARD AT WORK FOR INITIAL GAME

With their first game of the season exactly two weeks away, the Bay Hi footballers are putting every effort into their workouts to get in shape.

Coaches Ellis Guillory and Norman Hall are well pleased with their charges, who are extremely light and fast. The players have knuckled down to the long grind of scrimmages and contact work and their spirit is higher than any seen on a Bay Hi team in several seasons.

There are twenty-five boys on the squad at present, with several more expected when school starts.

STANISLAUS "ROCK-A-CHAWS" ROUNDING INTO SHAPE

With workouts twice daily until school starts, Coaches Pete Burge and Dick Thames of St. Stanislaus are rapidly whipping their charges into shape for their first game with Bay Hi on Friday, Sept. 17th.

The Rocks work out each morning in shorts, practicing passing, timing and plays. Each afternoon session is devoted to scrimmages and the hard work of tackling and blocking. The hard work has created no casualties, but there are plenty of bruises and sore muscles.

INFANT DEATH RATE CONTINUES TO DECLINE

The decline in the infant death rate, experienced in the last ten years, continued through 1947. The rate 36.6 per 1,000 live births; was the lowest ever recorded in Mississippi even with a birth rate, which increased 9% over 1946. There were still, however, 2,428 deaths of infants under one year in Mississippi said Dr. C. M. Shipp of the Hancock County Health Department.

The Mississippi State Board of Health has pointed out that during 1947 Hancock County is in the group of counties in the state with the lowest infant death rate.

With the additional hospital facilities made available by the hospital construction program now underway our progressive public health programs, better information about child care among our parents, and with well child care by own physicians, there will be an even more rapid reduction in our infant death rate.

Veterans' News

Veterans carrying National service Life Insurance term policies will be able to renew them for an additional five years upon expiration of the present term period, Veterans Administration announced.

G-I term insurance taken out by veterans before January 1, 1946, carries a term period of eight years from date of issue. Policies issued after that date are for a five-year term.

Those who renew their term insurance when it becomes necessary will pay a higher rate than before, based on their age at the time of renewal.

The majority of veterans attending colleges and universities full-time under the G-I Bill will be able to work part-time without having their subsistence allowances reduced, Veterans Administration said.

No reduction in subsistence will be made as long as income from labor and subsistence allowance do not exceed monthly "ceilings" established by Public Law 512 last spring: (1) $210 for a veteran without dependents; (2) $270 for a veteran with one dependent; or, (3) $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

This does not mean that there is a limit on what a veteran may earn while attending college full-time. It does mean that a veteran-student may receive his full subsistence allowance if his monthly earnings are not more than $135 if he has no dependents, $165 if he has one dependent, and $170 if he has more than one dependent.

For full-time training in colleges or universities a veteran may receive $75 a month subsistence if he has no dependents, $105 a month if he has one dependent, and $120 a month if he has more than one dependent.

Mississippi—a land of tidal meadows, piney woods, bottom lands and bluffs, rolling plateaus and rugged hills, retains an allure all its own. True recreational relaxation can be found in the black water and white sand of inland bays of the south, and in the placid pools and tranquil hills of the uplands. Here we do not scramble madly about for the pleasures of the outdoors—they come to us. Mississippi is different.

Here, too, is a wealth of minerals and wildlife. The life span of these—our God-given resources—depends entirely on their conservation and wise utilization by man. The future productivity of this earth can only come from proper conservation education in youth. Our children must find the ailments of land, water

Mr. and Mrs. John Harry Bonck, Jr., who were married on Wednesday, August 18th, at a nuptial Mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Jack L. Bourgeois And Miss Nell Hogue Were Married At Gulfport On August 23rd

Miss Nell Hogue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Hogue of Gulfport, and Mr. Jack Leroy Bourgeois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bourgeois, former residents of this city, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Gulfport, on Monday, August 23.

The stairway of the Hogue home was decorated with garlands of green vines and fan-shaped baskets filled with white asters. White gladiolas and green fern completed the house decorations. Three branches Candelabra holding lighted candles provided light for the ceremony which was performed before a mantle blanketed with fern and white asters, the Rev. Caruth officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and descended the stairs to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin wearing a wedding dress of white lace over satin fashioned with a ruffled skirt with a train. The tight fitted bodice had the long tight sleeves which finished with a point over the hand and a high neck and a pearl necklace was her only ornament. Her half length veil of illusion held to a head with a spray of stephanotti. She carried a white lace fan on which were three white orchids and falling from this were loops of white satin ribbon holding stephanotti blooms.

She had as her only attendant her sister Miss Betty Jean Hogue who wore pink organdie with the ruffled skirt and the bodice fashioned with the drop shoulder. She carried a pale blue tulle fan covered with pink rosebuds. She wore a short neck length pale blue veil fastened to the head with pink rosebuds. The flower girl, cousin of the bride wore a floor length dress of lilac organdie and carried a small fan made of yellow rosebuds.

Mr. Bourgeois had as his best man, Mr. Paul Edward Porter, Jr. of Bay St. Louis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held with Mrs. Hogue and Mrs. Bourgeois receiving with the bridal party.

In the dining room a lace covered table held the five tiered wedding cake iced in tube roses. There were quite a group of tea girls who added to the beauty of the scene in dresses of pastel shades.

For traveling the bride wore a fawn silk gown suit, with a matching hat and brown accessories. After a trip to Lookout Mountain the couple will make their home in Gulfport where Mr. Bourgeois is associated with the Hogue Lumber Company.

and vegetation and strive to correct them or their heritage is lost.

For seven years a youthful crusade, has been in progress to preserve the natural resources of this state. The leaders in this movement are 1,000 youths who are "preaching the gospel of conservation" in every section of Mississippi. The Mississippi Forestry and Chemurgic Association has sponsored this project with representatives from every county in the state. This year three summer schools have been held at LeRoy Percy State Park, Percy Quinn State Park and Roosevelt State Park. These youthful "ambassadors of conservation good-will" are instructed in practices of conservation as well as a healthful recreational program.

Apropos of the state-wide conservation youth movement is the City-sponsored Juvenile Fish Rodeo held in Jackson, Mississippi on August 28th. Hendrix Dawson, served as chairman of the committee responsible for this rodeo for boys and girls under fifteen years of age.

According to a statement from Director R. M. Freeman, issued recently, a state-wide study of the habits of the mourning dove will be undertaken by the personnel of the State Game and Fish Commission. Certain basic data concerning the opening dates of the shooting season in Mississippi and the duration of the season in different areas will be collected in this project which became effective on August 1, 1948.

With the intangible pungency of Autumn in the air, the beginning of the annual migration of birds is under way. Shore birds, including the smaller sandpipers and plover, are moving into the shores of lakes and beaches of Mississippi Sound. Swallows are gathering in immense flocks. Black birds, too, finished with their nesting, are congregating in flocks.

Southern sportsmen have waited long for the word from Washington as to the shooting regulations on migratory waterfowl. The final decision of the Department of the Interior and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service is that conditions in the Mississippi and Atlantic flyways have not shown enough improvement to make possible any larger bag limits or longer shooting season. In the Central and Pacific flyways the waterfowl rules are more lenient.

An article included in the official organ of the Outdoor Writers Association of America—"Outdoors Unlimited"—and written by Hendrix Dawson, public relations director for the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission offers some trouble-provoking comments and vital statistics on the game kill for the state during the 1947-48 season. Mr. Dawson states that the estimated total kill of quail, squirrel, deer, coon, ducks and possums combined was over 2,600,000, and says that at the present price of shells the hunters of Mississippi spent over $200,000 in the explosion that brought that much game tumbling down—just about 50 per cent of the total amount of all licenses purchased in the state. His pertinent question is, "If the Mississippi hunters spent as much money in providing food and habitat as is spent to take the game, WHAT WOULD BE THE OUTCOME FOR WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT IN THE MAGNOLIA STATE?"

At long last, wildlife gets a break. Congress, before adjourning, made a record appropriation of twenty-two million dollars for the United States Fisheries and Wildlife Service for the current year's expenditures for wildlife propagation, protection and law enforcement.

September 16th will see the National Skeet Championships being held at Las Vegas, Nebraska, and October 25th and 28th rifle experts will meet in Washington, D. C. for the finals in the National Rifle Championships; these to follow elimination trials in practically every state to determine finals candidates.

—W. C. Morgan with the State Board of Baptist Training Union was a visitor to Bay St. Louis on Sunday, August 29, and attended services at the Baptist Church. He is a former director of the Bay High band and was enroute to Biloxi from Jackson where they now reside, to conduct a weeks training school in B. T. U. work. Mr. Morgan favored with a vocal solo on Sunday night.

A. & G. THEATRE SEPT. 5TH. - 6TH. FOUR STARS TOP "ROMANCE ON THE HIGH SEAS" CAST

Pulsating calypso, beautiful color by Technicolor, plus Jack Carson, Janis Paige, Don DeFore and the new singing sensation, Doris Day make Warner Bros.' long-heralded new musical, "Romance On The High Seas," a Michael Curtiz production, something to look forward to. The A. & G. Theatre has booked it for Sunday and Monday.

Mere mention of Havana, Trinidad and Rio brings up vivid pictures and through the magic of Technicolor, no little care has been spared to make it a lavish treat. It is the most important musical since "Night and Day" and "This is The Army," both from Warners, were presented. The lively music from Sammy Cahn and Jule Styne leads off with "It's Magic" as a film-stopper.

Busby Berkeley gives plenty attention to calypso samba and other West Indian themes in his dance direction. Avon Long, Sir Lancelot, the Samba Kings and the Page Cavabough Trio shine during these sequences. Anton Grot, practically outdoes himself with his tasteful pastel Technicolors for backgrounds.

Director Curtiz has steered the film with an eye for laughs and romance. The pace is brisk with a constant flow of visual delights, filling the screen. Alex Gottlieb produced this handsome spectacle for Warner Bros.

Bygone Days

By UDELL FAVRE

JUNE AND JULY, 1895

Honorable Joseph F. Cazeneuve was Sheriff of Hancock County for five successive terms which was the longest number of terms for that particular office.

Bay St. Louis was to have illumination of the streets, there were to be electric lights along the front road and vapor oil lamps on the cross streets.

There were twelve graduates from St. Stanislaus college in the year of 1895.

"Messrs J. A. and J. O. Mauffray, proprietors of the Senate dry goods store, are business men any town might be desirous of. Not established much over a year, their store has just been enlarged once more its former size and their stock is what one can appreciate term 'im-mense.' The success of such enterprising and progressive gentlemen is cheerfully noted." The above was an excerpt from the Echo about two young business men, of the community.

Sheriff and Mrs. Cazeneuve announced the birth of a son in June. Miss Geraldine Ames was awarded the only gold medal offered at the convent school in the year of 1895.

W. W. Stockstill was a candidate for County Superintendent of Education.

There were four young ladies graduating from St. Joseph's Academy in the class of '95. They were Misses Catherine Spornio, Bay St. Louis; Marie Burfueres, St. Mary's Parish, La.; Isabel Seub, Bay St. Louis; and Adrienne Esnard, New Orleans.

Of the twelve graduates from St. Stanislaus College not one was from Bay St. Louis.

Mr. Alfred de Montluzin returned from New Orleans and is now located with his father.

Mr. Mat Fahey, brother of John B. Fahey died, and the remains were removed to Louisville, Ky., for burial. The young man was only 34 years of age.

The annual regatta brought many visitors from New Orleans and other towns along the Coast.

ORTIE THEATRE
SUNDAY - MONDAY
"THE PARADISE CASE"

Starring Gregory Peck,
Valli, Ann Todd, Charles
Laughton, Charles Coburn, Louis Jourdan and
Ethel Barrymore

The elaborate, lushly produced drama of a British lawyer and a beautiful murder suspect. "The Paradise Case" opens at Ortie Theatre Sunday and Monday.

The movie is based upon a popular novel by Robert Hichens and is a drama about a beautiful and fascinating woman of questionable past (Valli), who marries a wealthy English nobleman, and when he dies is accused of his murder. Gregory Peck is the attorney who defends her. The really top-drawer cast also includes Ann Todd, Charles Laughton, Charles Coburn, Ethel Barrymore and the new romantic star from France Louis Jourdan.

Produced by David O. Selznick, the movie was directed by Alfred Hitchcock, whose reputation as a "master of suspense" augurs well for this film. Hitchcock was director of such memorable pictures as "Rebecca" and "Spellbound."

Said to be a combination of rich love story and personal drama, told in an exciting, suspenseful way, this film has received much praise in trade reviews as well as from newspaper critics in New York, where it was first shown.

COUNTY AGENT
NOTES

September is not too late to plant seeds for a patch of greens in the garden this winter. Extension specialists state.

In Greens are delicious crisp and high in vitamins. A September planting should furnish an abundance of tender leaves throughout most of the winter months.

"Old favorites" for the fall and winter garden include collards, turnips, kale, lettuce, tendergreens, mustard and spinach. Other possibilities are Swiss chard and Chinese cabbage.

For best production, such leafy vegetables require fertile, well-drained soil with an abundance of organic matter and ample moisture for quick continuous growth.

Spinach, in addition, requires a sweet or near neutral soil. If soil is acid, give it an application of lime while preparing it.

Ashes, which some people may have a problem disposing of this winter, can help next summer's crop of vegetables. Extension garden specialists point out:

Hardwood ashes are valuable for fertilizing, and hard coal ashes for lightening heavy soil. Ashes left from hardwood such as oak or hickory contain as much as five percent potash and a little lime.

Ashes having fertilizing value should be kept dry over winter to prevent leaching, then worked thoroughly into the garden soil in the spring. Up to 50 pounds of dry hardwood ashes may be used on a 36-40 foot garden.

Ashes from pine and other softwood may be used on gardens, but have less fertilizing value.

In 1946 there were 28 members at the first meeting of the Little Theatre and now two years later this fast growing organization can boast of having 275 members.

Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. C. D. Blair were the promoters of the movement and called the first meeting. Officers elected for the first term were Mrs. Bell, president; Mrs. Jason Floya vice-president; Mrs. A. D. Drescher, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Blair, chairman of the dramatic committee; and the late Joseph Kern, chairman of the stage committee.

At the beginning the group could not afford to erect a playhouse; so they used the Bay High auditorium for the first two plays, and later secured the Bay High field house—a stage was erected, the building was wired, chairs were acquired from a group of volunteers, and thus a Little Theatre was born.

Now that the theatre was ready the next thing was to search for talent; when this was accomplished the first play was successfully presented and since then eleven others have been brought before the public. The membership fee was $3.00 and by the end of the first year there were 248 members.

At a business meeting held in 1947 it was decided that it was too much to ask the players to do 12 plays a year; so it was decided that if few, er plays were presented the quality and presentation of the plays would improve because there would be more time for rehearsals. Membership fee was raised to $5.00 and six plays a year were offered.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre was soon faced with another problem—they were forced to give up the building they were occupying because it was going to be demolished. The executive board sponsored the idea that they own their own playhouse; so a lot was purchased on Boardman Avenue and a building was erected at the approximate cost of $6,000. Volunteer labor, good will, and large donations helped build the theatre.

The new building's auditorium section measures 30 by 60 feet, is equipped with 156 theater type seats, has a snack bar, telephone room, and two rest rooms. The stage section which runs across the back of the auditorium is 20 x 50 feet, and contains a professional size stage, two dressing rooms, a bath, and a loading platform. In addition to this the stage section has a ceiling height of 18 feet which allows a complete change of scenery to be hoisted up or lowered into place. The building is cooled by four ventilating fans.

The 1948-49 officers are John Bell president; Dennis Tonkel, vice-president; Mrs. Antoinette Trastrout, secretary; David McDonald, treasurer; Mrs. O. L. Radford, business manager; A. O. Hopfeld, chairman of production; Mrs. Ruth Woods Luderbach, art director, and Donald Cole, stage manager.
